

SREB's 2024 High Schools That Work Surveys

SREB's surveys provide an opportunity to collect authentic and anonymous student and teacher feedback. While schools have a variety of data sources available to them, SREB's surveys provide a deep-dive look into school and classroom practices by delivering descriptive data that show where schools are in their improvement process. The student survey asks about students' classroom experiences, access to quality CTE programs of study and expectations of their learning environment. The teacher survey explores support from school leaders and teachers' views on improving student achievement and setting high expectations for their students.

General Information

Surveys cost $600 per school* and are administered:

- ✓ Online to all high school students (we can help you generate a random sample of students if all students cannot be surveyed)
- ✓ To all full- and part-time teachers
- ✓ At any time within the administration window
- ✓ Student and teacher survey reports will be available same day following survey completion

What is the value of the SREB surveys?

All schools will receive user-friendly, actionable feedback reports. These reports allow schools to:

- ✓ Establish baseline data and track progress over time to monitor growth
- ✓ Identify strengths and challenges for school improvement plans, Perkins V needs assessments or other plans
- ✓ Identify barriers to opportunities for student and families
- ✓ Cross-compare student and teacher responses to similar topics
- ✓ Examine focus area and key practice indices that are proven predictors of student performance, including:
 - Integrated curricula and assignments that utilize real-world problems and projects
 - Challenging and engaging instructional strategies in all classrooms
 - Access to quality career pathway programs of study for all students
 - A seamless transition to postsecondary education or a career
 - A system of extra help, enrichment and interventions based on student needs
 - Time and support for teacher collaboration within and across subject areas
 - Leadership's emphasis on high expectations and continuous school improvement
