

SREB Alliance

2015 Annual Meeting
“Students’ Future Lives are Big and Bright”

San Antonio, Texas
November 4-6, 2015

Call for Presentation Proposals Deadline for submission: May 29, 2015

Go Alliance’s annual meeting connects professionals from national organizations and SREB states who work in the field of college access, including staff from state education agencies, college access programs, and community-based organizations. The meeting highlights effective practice, current research, and resources to help states improve their outreach to students who would be the first in their family to enroll in postsecondary education. Sessions highlight the latest developments in college access policy, support programs, partnerships, and social marketing campaign efforts. National experts lead hands-on sessions on topics relevant to member states.

Go Alliance is seeking successful programs who can present their best and promising practices. If your organization has developed a new or innovative program, and you are willing to discuss it, please complete a proposal. In particular, SREB seeks presentations that include data on program effectiveness.

You may be asked to present as part of a panel or in conjunction with a consultant who will lead a discussion. In some cases, three presenters describing programs of similar types will constitute a panel, and these presenters will have lead time to coordinate their presentations. If your presentation will be in conjunction with a consultant, you and the consultant will be able to coordinate the session in advance. You will be notified by Monday, June 8, if your presentation has been selected.
