SREB | Council on Collegiate
Education for Nursing

Open Educational Resources and Creative Commons Licenses:
Implications for Nursing Education
March 22, 2017 │ 2:00 p.m. – 2:45 p.m.

Supplemental Resources

OER License Generator
This tool illustrates how to combine licenses, walks you through the process and generates HTML code that you can add to your work.

Creative Commons Video
This video is intended to help you choose compatible resources and choose a valid license for your work.

CCCOER-Advisory Listserv
Link to join the Community College Consortium for Open Educational Resources Listserv and instructions for joining the group

CCCOER-Advisory listserve is a public discussion list intended for community college faculty, librarians, instructional designers, administrators, and other educators who are interested in open education policy, practices and resources. It serves three main purposes:

- A listserve to share ideas, resources and best practices pertaining to OER.

- A communication channel for sharing events and professional development opportunities for OER adoption at community colleges.

- A source of key updates about policy, research, projects and other news from the broader OER movement.

Instructions for joining a group:

1. Sign in to Google Groups. Learn how to join if you don't have a Google Account.

2. In the box at the top, enter a subject, like "cooking" or "football." To browse groups by category or region, click Browse all. Depending on what you search for, you might see a list of groups followed by a list of messages.

3. Optional: If a group is open, you can read messages sent by its members by clicking the group name.

4. To join a group, click Join group or Apply to join group. If a group is invite-only, you can ask to be invited by clicking Contact owner.

After you've joined the group, you'll get a confirmation email. If you applied or contacted the owner, that means your application needs to be approved.