

FUNDING SUPPORT FOR RONALD E. MCNAIR POSTBACCALAUREATE ACHIEVEMENT SCHOLARS

The information contained in this document was prepared by Dr. Robert (Bob) Belle, Associate Director, SREB-State Doctoral Scholars Program for presentation at the 22nd Southeastern Association of Educational Opportunity Program Personnel (SAEOPP) McNair/SSS Scholars Research Conference. The conference will be held at the Hilton Atlanta, 255 Courtland Street, NE, Atlanta, GA, June 23-26, 2016.

The conference is designed to attract undergraduate and graduate students from all TRIO programs within the U.S. and the Trust Territories. The conference will provide opportunities for young scholars to share their research, provide exposure to the key issues in research and higher education, facilitate the interaction between graduate school representatives, graduate faculty, McNair and SSS scholars, and provide forums for discussion of intellectual issues.

The theme for the 2016 conference is McNair the 30th Anniversary: Engendering and Empowering 21st Century Research Scholars.

M McNAIR FEE WAIVER LIST

M McNAIR SCHOLARS DIRECTORY

The Council for Opportunity in Education (COE), in conjunction with the Council of Graduate Schools (CGS), has compiled The List of Graduate Schools That Offer Fee Waivers and/or Other Opportunities to McNair Scholars. This list was compiled as a resource to help McNair Scholars find graduate schools that offer school application fee waivers and/or fellowships and other opportunities that are available to McNair Scholars.

This is not a comprehensive list of all graduate schools that offer fee waivers and/or other opportunities that are available to McNair Scholars. Sch to this list based on the completion of an opt-in survey that we made available to graduate school officials.

The List of Graduate Schools That Offer Fee Waivers and/or Other Opportunities to McNair Scholars is sorted primarily by state, then by school name. Schools have multiple entries on the list due to variances in fee waiver offerings, contact information, etc. We requested a standard set of information for schools on this list, but not all of the requested information was required, so you may notice that some schools have more information on the list than others.

- Portable Document Format version (.pdf) — We have made the entire list available particularly for McNair Directors who may want to add it to their resource libraries. Please note that the list is quite extensive (200+ pages), so be wary of unintentionally attempting to print the entire list.

To quickly view the list of schools and what they provide, please download the At-A-Glance Summary (.pdf).

Attention, McNair Scholars

Many schools on The List of Graduate Schools That Offer Fee Waivers and/or Other Opportunities to McNair Scholars require McNair Scholars to submit the McNair Scholars Fee Waiver Form (.pdf) as part of the graduate application fee waiver process.

NOTE — This form should only be sent to graduate schools that you are applying to, in the manner that each respective school specifies, and not to all schools on the list.

Attention, Graduate School Officials

If you are a representative of a graduate school that is currently not included in The List of Graduate Schools That Offer Fee Waivers and/or Other Opportunities to McNair Scholars, and would like to add your school to this list, please contact Brittany Ross at (brittany.ross@pellinstitute.org). If you are aware of a school that currently offers fee waivers and/or other special opportunities that McNair Scholars are eligible for, and that school is not currently included in The List of Graduate Schools That Offer Fee Waivers and/or Other Opportunities to McNair Scholars, please ask officials from that school to contact us, or inform us at info@coenet.us and we will contact the school.

This list was compiled University of Rochester, Kearns Center McNair Program as a resource to help McNair scholars find graduate schools that offer support for McNair scholars in the form of fee waivers and/or fellowships and other opportunities that are available to McNair Scholars

Introduction

Nation-wide, McNair programs have proved very successful in preparing their participants for the challenges of advanced education and research. McNair students have sophisticated understandings, insights, and expectations, unlike many entering graduate students who may take years to develop them. McNair Scholars constitute an excellent recruitment pool. McNair programs, funded by the Department of Education, are found at many top universities. The following list of institutions offer McNair-specific fellowships and other forms of financial support to attend graduate school.

Arizona State University application fees will be waived for all McNair Scholars applying to graduate degree programs at ASU. A limited number of Doctoral Enrichment Fellowships are available through the Graduate College, and McNair Scholars admitted for graduate study are encouraged to ask their academic units to consider nominating them for this award. Direct questions to Dr. Andrew Webber, Associate Vice Provost, (480) 965-5906 or Andrew.Webber@asu.edu

The Ball State University Graduate School has endowment funds to support up to five assistantships for McNair Scholars. McNair Scholars do not need to apply separately for this award. They simply need to let the director of the program to which they are applying know that they are a McNair Scholar and ask them to submit an application on their behalf. The award amount will be commensurate with assistantship stipends for the admitting department. Assistantships will be for the academic year. Recipients must be enrolled as full-time students. Only those students enrolled for the first time may be considered for this award. Address questions to Mary Kite, Associate Dean, Ball State University Graduate School, toll free 866-285-GRAD or 765-285-1300; e-mail mkite@bsu.edu.

Boise State University: McNair Scholars are encouraged to apply to the Graduate Residential Scholars Program (GRSP) at Boise State University. This program provides an enriched residential experience, including free housing for up to two years for selected BSU students who receive graduate stipends from their home departments. GRSP students reside on-campus in a new 20-person graduate residential community consisting of five 4-bedroom apartments or quads. A tuition waiver and a parking permit also are provided. The total annual value of each award, including the stipend, exceeds $26,000. Scholars are selected using criteria aimed at assembling a graduate residential community of highly capable full-time students. Although not directly targeted towards McNair Scholars, a major goal of the GRSP is to bring together a diverse group of graduate students representing a wide range of academic disciplines and personal backgrounds. Thus, McNair Scholars are very competitive for positions in the program. For details see <http://www.boisestate.edu/gradcoll/>.

Bryn Mawr College: McNair Scholars receive a fee waiver, Partial or full Tuition Awards, and special consideration for Dean's Fellowships. For more information, please see http://jwww.brynmawr.edu/gsas/prospective_students/prospectivestudents.shtml.

Central Michigan University: Offers up to two graduate assistantships for McNair scholars enrolled in either master's or Ph.D. programs at CMU. Assistantships are full-time (20 hours per week) and include a stipend ranging from $10,200 to $12,250 and tuition waiver. Interested students should include a letter addressed to Lynn Curry, McNair Director, Central Michigan University, Foust 148, Mt. Pleasant, MI 48859 with their application materials submitted to the College of Graduate Studies. The letter should include a brief goal statement and reasons for being selected for the assistantship. Questions may be directed to Lynn Curry at (989) 774-1138 or lynn.curry@cmich.edu. Awards will be decided by March 1.

Colorado State University: Up to four (4) McNair Graduate Fellowship awards will be made available for the Academic Year 2005-2006, depending upon the budget. These are specifically for entering students who either have completed McNair Programs at their undergraduate institutions or who are McNair eligible (refer to www.mcnair.colostate.edu/qualifications.asp for more information). including Colorado State. Their purpose is to encourage bright undergraduates, through intellectual and practical program enhancement, to attend graduate school. They serve populations that have traditionally been underrepresented in the ranks of graduate students. The Awards are for $7,500 and must be paired with a half-time (20 hours per week) graduate assistantship from the department, which pays tuition dependent upon the type of assistantship awarded. Students must be US citizens or permanent residents and registered for (RI) campus instruction and be enrolled full-time. The McNair Graduate Fellowship awards are non-renewable. A 3.0 GPA will be sufficient for these awards. The deadline for nominations is March 4, 2005. Awardees will be selected and departments notified by March 15. For further details of eligibility or to identify applicants who are McNair Scholars, contact Valerie Gallegos at 491-3745. You may access the McNair Graduate Fellowship
